	Agency FTE increase since 2017	30 June 2017: 3,388 FTE 31 Dec 2023: 4,758 FTE = 1,370 FTE increase
	Agency's key messages	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> This is an important step in setting us up for the future. It is about reducing our cost structure, but we hope in ways that position us well to keep delivering for Aotearoa, New Zealand – strengthening people's trust in the law. We have successfully reduced spending across a range of non-personnel costs such as travel, printing, SIM cards and other operational costs; and on contractors and consultants. This has really made a difference and will continue to help our financial sustainability into the future. We have also introduced active vacancy management. Managers are actively making case-by-case decisions about whether to fill or hold vacancies across the Ministry, taking into account workloads, whether the role is critical to delivering services, and whether the role is affordable. Since November, through attrition and careful management of vacancies, we have gradually reduced roles across all parts of the Ministry by 110 FTE. These actions have helped us to manage our cost pressures, but have not, in themselves, been enough to put us in a sustainable fiscal position. This has formed the backdrop to the change proposals.
